Truman 80 And Feeling Fine; Avoids Insults

WASHINGTON (AP) — Harry S. Truman, feeling just fine today, solved problems right and left but confessed that a worry was gnawing at him.

The worry: What will Bess, the former first lady whom he left back home in Independence, Mo., think of his performance in Washington?

"She is always afraid," he said, "that I will insult somebody I am not supposed to insult."

So far Truman, special guest of President Johnson and the nation, has avoided insulting anybody.

Gives Out Advice

But he has given an elder statesman's advice on several problems including:

1. How long should a president work each day. Fourteen hours, Truman said flatly.
2. How can a president avoid being assassinated as he rides through crowds. "Put back the two Secret Service guards who used to ride on the rear bumper," Truman said.

Truman arrived from Independence Thursday in an Air Force plane, and quickly went to Johnson's defense on the handling of hound dogs. The President had got into some hot water recently by lifting "Him" and "Her" by the ears.

When a newsman inquired whether that was the way to handle hounds, Truman asked: "Have you ever had any hounds?"

"No," the newsman said.

"Then what the hell are you hollering about?" Truman said. "That's the way to handle hounds."

Bourbon And Champagne

Many events are on Truman's schedule today, including an off the cuff talk National Press Club and a dinner meeting with old buddies of the famous World War II Truman investigating committee.

But it is unlikely that any will surpass an event of Thursday when Truman got the Grand Golden Cross of Austria in the plush home of the Austrian ambassador.

Truman on this occasion proved himself adept at shifting from bourbon to champagne and back again without stripping a gear.

The ambassador, Dr. Wilfried Platzer, presented him the magnificent decoration as both men stood under an oil painting of Archduchess Christine, favorite daughter of Empress Maria Theresa of the Hapsburgs.

The ambassador praised Truman for helping rebuild Austria after World War II and keep it free.

Last stop for Truman Thursday night was a dinner of the Washington Masons where he got the award for distinguished service from the grand lodge of the district.

He sent the Masons by confiding that although a lot of hard things had been said about him "I don't give a damn as long as they can't prove them."

Indonesia Will Get Soviet Aid To Crush Malaysia

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Indonesia, which has built the mightiest war machine in Southeast Asia with Soviet aid, has a new promise of Soviet help in its drive to crush Malaysia.

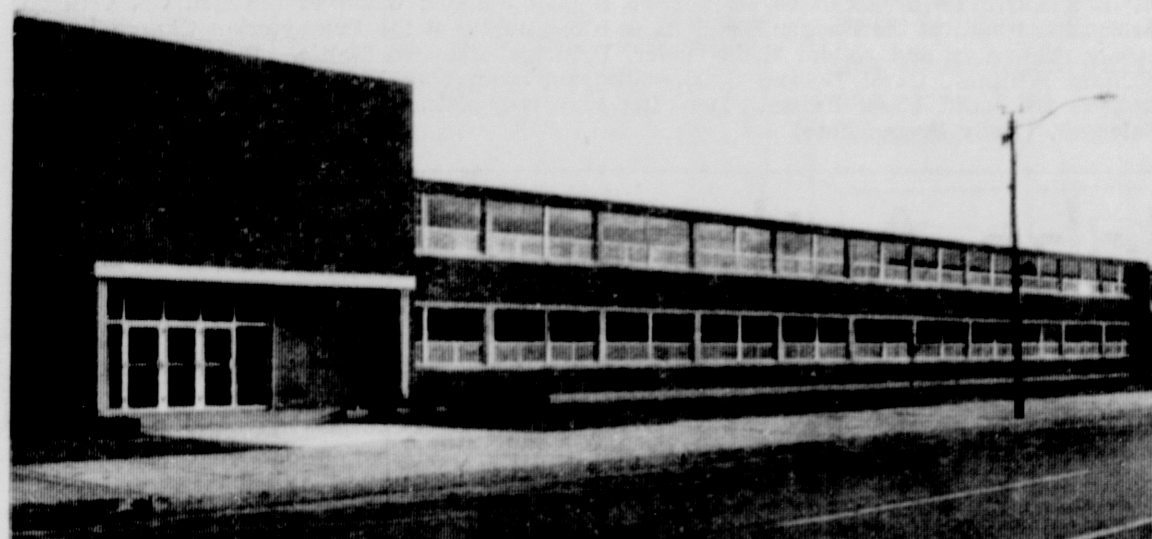

The official news agency Antara said today Soviet Ambassador N. A. Michailov promised "the Soviet government will keep on helping the Indonesian people in their campaign to crush the neo-colonialist project of Malaysia."

The Soviet support to the Indonesian struggle is concrete and not merely in words," Michailov said.

It was not clear whether this meant the Soviet government would increase the 1961 arms deal which provided Indonesia with $1 billion in modern Soviet weapons, including jet fighters and missiles.

Marquette Gets Shore Site For Power Plant

NILES (AP) — The Conservation Commission today agreed to allow the City of Marquette the right to use lands in Lake Superior for a steam-generating plant for electricity.

The city wants 3 1/2 acres of submerged lands in the lake, plus a deed to another 15 acres of filled-land for the plant.

Local property owners had objected this might devalue their holdings.

Thomas Moore, Marquette City Manager, said the city must provide more and cheaper electrical power and can't do it with a diesel or hydroelectric plant.

The site also would have recreational values, Moore contended. He said there were plans to put in a municipal dock, free to the public, that would attract pleasure craft. Plans to develop a marina and for a $250,000 swimming pool also are in the budget, Moore said.

"We must earn our keep not only financially, but also recreationally," Moore said. "How can we do this better than having a beautiful place as we have planned?"

Fugitive Caught As Car Crashes

DETROIT (AP) — A man police said was wanted for questioning in the slayings of two Virginia policemen was arrested today after a car chase in which his car collided with another, killing the driver.

Sgt. Robert Trower of suburban Wayne police said the captured fugitive, badly hurt in the crash, was identified as Bruce Walter Leikett, address unknown.

Leikett was taken to Wayne County General Hospital. Police had yet to talk to him. Trower said Leikett was so badly injured "he was in no condition to talk."

Two guns and handcuffs taken from two slain Fredericksburg, Va., policemen were found in Leikett's car, Trower said.

Trower said Leikett's car was pursued because it answered the description of a car reportedly driven by Lewis Henry Wells, San Quentin prison parolee. Police at Fredericksburg since said Wells was no longer considered a suspect.

American Officer Back After Stay In East Germany

HEIDELBERG, Germany (AP) — A U.S. Army captain who crossed into East Germany a year ago has been returned by Soviet officials. U.S. officials are investigating the case.

Capt. Alfred Svenson, 31, was returned to U.S. military control at Wartha Thursday. The East-West checkpoint is near Eisenach, where Svenson crossed into East Germany on May 4, 1963, while his tank unit was on maneuvers. The East Germans said he asked for asylum.

Michigan Airman Drugged During Trip In Russia

MOSCOW (AP) — A Michigan, a Black Sea port, March 24-26, said department press officer Robert J. McCloskey. They were not harmed.

The three Americans believed they were drugged while having dinner in Odessa. They noticed the symptoms of excessive drowsiness the next morning when they awoke in their hotel rooms, informants said.

The American Embassy filed a protest May 2. Officials explained the delay by saying the administration wanted to obtain results of a medical test.

The tests, made in Moscow, showed the presence of enough barbiturates to cause drowsiness, they said.

Officials said they had no immediate information on whether the three officers were on duty tour or on leave at the time. They said they were not aware of any loss of anything, such as documents, during the night the men spent in the Odessa hotel.

President Makes Racial Peace Appeal In Dixie

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — President Johnson, touring the Deep South, called today for "justice among the races." And he suggested that much of the South may find racial peace "before the end of racial strife in the cities of the North."

Johnson made his dramatic appeal for the civil rights cause in an address prepared for a breakfast meeting with members of the Georgia Legislature. His remarks, canvassing what he termed the "many troubles" of the South, were certain to be regarded as unusually significant.

Constitution Is Guide

Winding up a six-state tour of poverty-pocked Appalachia, the President suggested that in searching for racial justice, Georgia and the South "have a sure and faithful guide—the Constitution of the United States."

He declared: "Because the Constitution requires it—and because justice demands it—we must protect the constitutional rights of all of our people."

"For no one of us is fully free until all of us are fully free. And the rights of no single American are truly secure until the rights of all Americans are secure."

Johnson said that "racial problems have deep roots in Southern soil." However, he emphasized his view that such problems are not peculiar to any single section, saying: "They also trouble the passions of men on the shores of Maryland, in the slums of Philadelphia and in the streets of New York."

Actually, he took a hopeful view of the tribulations of the South, with these words: "We may well find racial peace in much of the South before the end of racial strife in the cities of the North."

Old Hatreds Condemned

Johnson also appealed for rejection of extremism. Conjuring memories of the Civil War, he said:

"Heed not those who come waving the tattered and discredited banners of the past—who seek to stir old hostilities and kindle old hatreds—who preach battle between neighbors and bitterness between states. That is the way back toward the anguish from which we came."

The President, covering considerable ground in 2,400 words, even made indirect reference to his own unannounced but obvious plans to seek election to a four-year term in November.

Declaring that "we are today one nation, one people, one America," Johnson said: "I would not be looking forward to November, were this not true. And I am looking forward to November."

Labor Party's Prospects Look Good In Britain

LONDON (AP) — Heavy gains in local elections increased the opposition Labor party's prospects today for victory in Britain's general election this fall.

Results from all but three of the 358 boroughs that voted Thursday gave labor a gain of 254 seats on borough councils, the great majority from Conservatives and pro-Conservative independents.

The Conservatives had a net loss of 132. Laborites won control of 10 towns, including the industrial centers of Portsmouth and Darlington.

Purchase Price $250,000 For U.P. 'Capitol'

The State of Michigan is committed to the purchase of the State Office Building in Escanaba at a price of $250,000, Rep. Erlandsen told the City Council, trustees of the building, last night.

Rep. Erlandsen (D) is Delta County representative in the State Legislature and a member of the House Ways and Means Committee.

George Harvey, Escanaba city manager, told the Council the long-sought sale of the office building in the 300 block, Ludington St., to the state has been realized with Rep. Erlandsen's help.

The building is presently occupied by state agencies on a rental basis and the Michigan Department of Health sought to have a laboratory addition constructed to house its Upper Peninsula laboratory services.

Gift to City

The building was financed by $300,000 in bequests to the City of Escanaba by Mrs. Catherine Bonifas, widow of the William Bonifas, wealthy lumberman. One-third of the total was for recreation facilities but was diverted to the office building project, with the understanding the recreation fund was to be restored from rentals or sale of the building.

Rep. Erlandsen was smiling and there were equally happy expressions on the faces of Mayor George Rusch and the City Councilmen at the announcement.

Rep. Erlandsen said that for two years the city manager and City Controller Frank Burke and former Mayor Harold Vankerberghe had worked with him toward state acquisition of the building. Rep. Erlandsen introduced a bill for the purchase which later developments made unnecessary.

Laboratory Site

Last week the Ways and Means Committee of which Rep. Erlandsen is a member wrote in $250,000 for the purchase of the building, and designated that 100 feet of the alley at the rear of the building be vacated and two lots in the rear be designated as the site for a State Health Department laboratory in the future, Rep. Erlandsen told the Council.

Meanwhile the laboratory facility at Powers will continue there, he added. The facility at Houghton will be moved as soon as possible because the space it now occupies is needed for other purposes.

Some members of the Ways and Means Committee thought the State Office Building large enough to house the laboratory if the conference room and lobby are used, Rep. Erlandsen said. But to meet future needs it was agreed the two lots to the south of the building should be acquired from the city as the site for a possible addition.

The outcome was that $250,-

Bodies Of Boat Mishap Victims Found In Lake

ST. JOSEPH (AP) — The bodies of two Indiana men who drowned in rough seas April 18 were recovered Thursday in Lake Michigan, some five miles north of here.

The victims, whose bodies were found floating near shore, were Ronnie Dobson, 23, of Swayzee, Ind., and Coleman Woodcock, 29, of Matthews, Ind.

The boat in which they were riding with two other men capsized near a St. Joseph pier as 10-foot waves rolled in. The other two men, Gerald O'Haver, 29, of Swayzee, and Charles Berry, 27, of Marion, Ind., managed to swim to the pier. O'Haver, the boat owner, was charged with manslaughter. He demanded examination in Municipal Court and is free on $2,000 bond.

St. Joseph police said the four men went boating despite small craft warnings and the high waves.

Rusk Will Ask More NATO Aid To Curb Reds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk flew to Europe today to urge NATO allies to contribute more to the fight against Communist guerrillas in South Viet Nam and to support the U.S. economic boycott of Cuba.

Rusk will attend a meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization foreign ministers at the Hague next week following a visit to Brussels.

On the eve of Rusk's departure, Undersecretary of State George Ball sharply challenged the idea attributed to President Charles de Gaulle of France that the Atlantic Alliance serves the defense of the West and should be preserved but that its organization is a bad idea.

Son, U.S. officials said this reasoning could lead to a conclusion that the basic defense pledge of NATO should be preserved but that the military command system should be radically altered and weakened if not actually abandoned.

Officials said Rusk would welcome any suggestions for improving or strengthening NATO, but he does not expect decisions at the Hague conference on NATO issues.

What he hopes to accomplish is agreement by individual Allied leaders to provide greater assistance to the embattled government of South Viet Nam — assistance in the form of technical experts in transportation, agriculture, and the like and also direct economic help.

In the case of Cuba, Rusk believes that in spite of the recent breakaway of Britain and France from the U.S. policy of economic isolation the Allied governments can still be persuaded to lower the level of their trade.

A British firm has sold buses to Cuba. A French firm sold the Communist country trucks, and more recently another French firm concluded a deal for 20 locomotives.

Cocked Pistol In Plane Debris Where 44 Died

CONCORD, Calif. (AP) — A cocked and loaded pistol found in the trail of wreckage left by a Pacific Air Lines plane has brought the FBI into the investigation of Thursday's crash.

All 44 persons aboard the turbo-prop airliner were killed. A quarter-mile of metal fragments, a garbled tape recording, the gun and bits of the victims' bodies were all the evidence that Civil Aeronautics Board investigators had to work with.

The plane, a morning flight from Reno, Nev., went down after stopping in Stockton, Calif., just 40 miles east, San Francisco, its destination.

Seconds before the airliner plunged nose first to earth, a garbled message came over its radio but was lost in a screech of static and electronic squeals. The Federal Aviation Agency had a tape recording of it that investigators hoped would provide some clue.

The FBI took charge of a cocked and loaded 38-caliber revolver. At first it was believed to belong to a San Francisco police inspector, George Lacau, who with his wife, Betty, was a passenger on the plane.

A check in police records, however, showed that none of the three revolvers registered by Lacau had the serial numbers of the weapon found in the wreckage.

"Our captains are authorized to carry a gun," said a Pacific Air Lines spokesman. "But none has ever done so to our knowledge."

Sheriff Walter Young asked the FBI disaster squad to use their special fingerprint techniques to make positive identification of the dead. Coroner Dr. William Bogart refused to allow relatives to view the remains.

Goldwater Seeks Delegates From Michigan GOP

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Michigan Republicans met today in Grand Rapids to choose 48 delegates to the GOP National convention. Overwhelming support was indicated for Gov. George W. Romney as favorite-son leader of the delegation.

Backers of Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater, however, sought to seat at least a handful of delegates pledged for their man for the 1964 presidential nomination. The 48 Michigan delegates will be chosen Saturday.

Most observers believed Goldwater would land only four or five delegates pledged to vote for him on the first ballot. On a recent visit to Detroit Goldwater predicted he would land 18 votes.

Romney repeatedly has insisted he is not a candidate for the nomination, although acknowledging he would accept a draft. Romney has requested the Michigan delegation to "keep its powder dry" by going unpledged to the national convention at San Francisco in July.

The GOP state central committee already has resolved support for the governor as the favorite son.

Two Goldwater-committed delegates are expected to come from Wayne County's 14th Congressional district. This district is headed by Richard Durant, a former member of the John Birch Society who has clashed with Romney over political philosophy.

Other Goldwater delegates may be chosen in Saturday morning caucuses by the First District in Wayne County and by traditionally-conservative southwestern Michigan districts.

Tornado Hits Wisconsin Area

Thunderstorms rolled across the central part of the nation today after another outbreak of severe weather in sections of the Midwest.

Tornadoes ripped across areas in Iowa and Wisconsin Thursday night, injuring more than 30 persons and damaging scores of homes and business establishments.

The early morning thunderstorm belt extended from Texas to the Upper Great Lakes region. Heavy rain, with hail and strong winds, hit many areas as the warm humid air from the Gulf region set off the storms.

About 20 persons were injured when a twister struck a residential area of Waterloo, Iowa, a city of about 78,000, and a trailer court in nearby Raymond. Fifteen persons were hospitalized. A tornado also skipped across farm areas northwest of Waterloo in Fayette County, damaging buildings on at least 10 farms.

Fourteen persons were injured and at least 10 mobile homes damaged as a tornado slammed into a trailer court northeast of Wisconsin Rapids, Wis., a town of about 15,000.

Summer-like weather prevailed in much of the eastern half of the nation but unseasonably cool temperatures were reported in parts of the Far West.

Jeep Falls Out Of Plane, Cuts Off Power Line

FORT WALTON BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Suburban residents searched for almost an hour before they found the cause of an electricity failure Thursday.

When two employees of the city golf course located the trouble, no one believed them.

A jeep from an Air Force C130 cargo plane apparently fell out of the aircraft and parachuted onto a power line.

A spokesman from the Tactical Air Warfare Center at Eglin Air Force Base said the jeeps are normally secured in the plane.

No one was injured. A power company spokesman said the lines were only burned.

Blood Quota Nearly Met

Delta County made 97 per cent of its quota in the three day visit of the Badger Blood Bank bloodmobile here this week, reports Mrs. Edward Olson, Red Cross blood program chairman.

"This is an improvement and an excellent result," said Mrs. Olson. She said that Gladstone went over its quota with donation of 110 pints on Tuesday, and Escanaba contributed 223 on Wednesday and Thursday.

In Escanaba 54 per cent of donors were walk-ins who hadn't registered and 39 per cent of those who pledged blood earlier didn't appear at the bloodmobile.

The collection of 334 pints, with 19 donations at St. Francis Hospital since the last bloodmobile visit gave a total of 353, with a quota of 365 pints to be met.

The next visit of the bloodmobile to Delta County will be in August. This Red Cross program provides the free blood for transfusions at St. Francis Hospital.

John Anthony Seeks Seat On School Board

An Escanaba native, an industrialist and civic leader, W. John Anthony, today announced that he is a candidate for the Escanaba Area Public Schools board of education.

The election will be held June 8 and two trustees will be elected for terms of four years each. Retiring from the board and not seeking reelection are Arol Beck and Frank Bender Jr.

Anthony was born in Escanaba Dec. 20, 1915, the son of the late Willis J. Anthony and of Mrs. Frederick Welch of Pullman, Wash.

He attended the public school, graduated from Escanaba High School, attended Michigan Technological University, transferred to Northern Michigan University, and in 1941 received his B.A. degree with a major in mathematics and a degree to teach in the secondary schools of Michigan.

Chamber President

He was employed with the sales division of the General Electric Co. in Detroit and then in March of 1942 enlisted in the U.S. Navy. He served as an officer in charge of several patrol craft along the Eastern shore of the United States, and later served as anti-submarine warfare officer for a division of Destroyer Escorts in the Pacific Theater of the war, and was discharged with the rank of lieutenant in 1945.

Anthony is president of Anthony & Co., a corporation which he with his father, formed in 1947, and which manufactures various advertising specialties distributed mainly to major paint manufacturers throughout the country. He is also president of Andex Industries, formed by Anthony in 1961 to manufacture plastic packaging for a variety of industries.

Four Children

Long active in civic affairs, he served for 10 years as a member of the City of Escanaba Civil Service Commission. He is a past president of the Rotary Club and is now president of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce. He also is a director of the First National Bank. He is a lifelong member of the First Methodist Church of Escanaba and is a member of Delta Lodge 195 and the Knights Templar.

Mrs. Anthony is the former Dorothy Lowin of Johnson City, N.Y. The Anthonys were married in 1943, have four children, and reside at 1011 Lake Shore Drive. John and David are pre-school age. Mary Catherine is in the second grade and Eileen is in kindergarten, both at the Lemmer School.

"I detect within those communities which comprise the Escanaba Area Schools a feeling of unity—a recognition of common school problems, and a new willingness to work together for their solution," Anthony commented. "I believe that my years of business experience, and particularly that involving finance, enable me to make a constructive contribution."

The deadline for candidates to file nominating petitions at the office of the school superintendent is 4 p. m. Saturday.

Woman Dies While Shopping

Mrs. Dorothy Asp, the wife of Enoch Asp of Manistique Rte. 1, collapsed and died in an Escanaba store shortly before noon today while she was shopping. She was 74 years old.

Another shopper found Mrs. Asp slumped to the floor of the Neisner Store. The police were summoned at 11:57 a. m.

The use of oxygen and the efforts of a rescue squad and physician failed to revive the stricken woman. The medical examiner told police death was attributed to a stroke or heart attack.

The body was taken to the Messier - Broulliere Funeral Home in Manistique. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Purchase Price $250,000 For U.P. 'Capitol'

000 is now in capital outlay of the state budget for the purchase at the beginning of the fiscal year July 1, Rep. Erlandson said. The announcement was the first official word that the long-sought transaction was realized.

U. P. Center

Mayor Rusch complimented Rep. Erlandson for his efforts in behalf of the project that "now really makes us the 'capitol' of the Upper Peninsula."

Councilman Vanlerberghe also voiced the thanks of the Council and the community and moved to have an official expression of appreciation a part of the Council record.

The building was dedicated in 1956 at ceremonies at which Gov. G. Mennen Williams and John A. Lemmer were speakers. Lemmer, former Escanaba school superintendent, was administrator of the Catherine Bonifas estate and friend of Mrs. Bonifas, whose benefactions to the community total more than one million dollars.

Cost of the building was $332,000 and its erection was the first significant step in rehabilitation of the so-called "blight" area at the east end of Ludington St., once the business heart of the town.

Now the area includes the new County Building, offices, a Chamber of Commerce home, and the construction of new county jail and sheriff's residence is underway there.

Increases over this year's allocations were received by the Michigan Heart Association, Michigan Children's Aid Society, Michigan Kidney Disease Foundation, the Arthritis & Rheumatism Foundation, Leader Dogs for the Blind, and the Michigan Association for Retarded Children. Michigan Mental Health Society received an increase to $170,000 from $159,385.

The Michigan United Fund is the first and largest state fund in the nation.

Health Services To Aged Offered

By DR. MARY L. CRETENS

The Upper Peninsula has a higher percentage of over 65 and under 18 years in the population than most other areas of the United States. The Delta - Menominee District Health Department has many services for the under 18 group and also has services for the older adults.

Some services have been proposed or attempted for the senior citizens groups, but have met failure because of lack of funds, lack of interest, or by opposition from various groups.

Currently there are many senior services that can be had or arranged for by the Health Department. Major programs for the older adults include the following:

Home Nursing Service - This is a nursing service given in the home upon a physician's orders. Treatments, baths, injections, etc. are given the person and reports are given to the family physician. There is a nominal fee for this service, however, no one is refused because of inability to pay. Whenever possible the family or patient is instructed on how to carry out the procedure.

Home Maker Service - The Health Department formerly had a subsidized program. Presently, it can help the family obtain a home maker and assist her in establishing a good routine for the sick person.

X-Ray; Diabetes Survey - At periodic intervals, in cooperation with the Michigan Department of Health X-rays to detect cancer, tuberculosis, and other conditions, and blood screening tests for diabetes are done. The Health Department works with physicians to help arrive at a final diagnosis for any abnormalities as revealed in the screening program. Certain other disease detection programs are held from time to time.

Immunizations - All residents are entitled to immunizations as provided by the Health Department. Certificates of immunization for foreign travel are issued through the Department.

Health Literature - Many topics can be obtained free of charge from the Health Department.

C&NW Recognition Day Is Scheduled For July 11

Escanaba, the town a railroad built, will honor its founder, the Chicago & North Western Railway, at a recognition day program to be held Saturday, July 11, in connection with the Escanaba Ore Centennial.

Unique in its association with the North Western for 101 years, the community will show its appreciation in a day-long celebration honoring top officials of the Railway.

Ben W. Heineman, chairman, and C. J. Fitzpatrick, president, both of Chicago, have accepted invitations to be in Escanaba for the event.

Hogberg Speaker
They will be greeted at a reception and luncheon at noon, will ride in the Ore Centennial Parade, and will receive the community's expressions of gratitude at a banquet in the evening.

Carl G. Hogberg, Pittsburgh, vice president, raw materials services, U. S. Steel Corp., and a native of Escanaba, will be the banquet speaker.

Joining with the people of Escanaba in the celebration will be representatives of major industries relating to mining, ore transportation, lakes shipping, and steel production. Several hundred persons are expected to attend the North Western Recognition Banquet and participate in the events marking a century of ore transportation at Escanaba.

The Ore Centennial observance was suggested by the Delta County Historical Society and has received the cooperation of the City Council, the Chamber of Commerce, and other groups and individuals.

Hansen Chairman
Wesley Hansen, retired councilman and mayor, is general chairman of the Ore Centennial celebration committee. The sponsoring committee is composed of Hansen, George Harvey, city manager; Walter Lewke, Chamber of Commerce manager; and John J. Mitchell, president of the Delta County Historical Society.

Ben W. Heineman

C. J. Fitzpatrick

The committees include: Hospitality—Employees of the Chicago & North Western Railway, who will also serve on other committees for the celebration.

Banquet—Forrest Henslee and Robert Barron; Parade—Claude Tobin and Paul Snyder; Special Events—Thomas Quinn; Displays—Thaxter Shaw and Robert Schmeiling; Tickets—John A. Lemmer; Yacht Club—Don Crawford; Finance—Gust Asp.

The next meeting of the committee chairmen will be held at 7:30 p. m. Monday in the Chamber of Commerce building.

Parade And Banquet
The committee has been advised that both the chairman of the board and the president of the Chicago & North Western will come to Escanaba for the C&NW Recognition Day program.

Tentative plans for the day include sightseeing tours morning and afternoon to the big ore docks from both land and water, with the Yacht Club and other boat owners operating a sight-seeing service. One of the features proposed is a trip for visiting dignitaries to the docks by special railway passenger car.

A noon luncheon and reception will be followed by a parade at 2:30 in which all groups of the area will be invited to have representation.

The evening program will include a banquet for several hundred persons in the commons of the Escanaba Area High School, at which Carl Hogberg, vice president of U. S. Steel and the son of an Escanaba man who worked for the North Western, will speak.

In Ludington Park there will be a colorful Venetian Night program with a band concert and fireworks.

Memorable Year
It was on Escanaba north shore the first ore docks were built in 1863 and the first ore was loaded into sailing vessels in 1864—just 100 years ago. By the end of the first year 31,072 tons of ore had been moved out of the new port of Escanaba.

In recent years the North

Western has shipped out about 5 million tons a season and this year the goal is 5½ million tons of ore. The ore comes to Escanaba from mines in three ranges, the Gogebic, Menominee and Marquette, and includes an increasing volume of pellet or processed ore. Last year about 800,000 tons of pellet ore was loaded at Escanaba. This year the total is expected to exceed 1,000,000 tons.

In the invitation to Heineman and Fitzpatrick the committee noted that "this year 1964 is a memorable one to the people of this community and of this area, for it is 100 years since your railroad inaugurated the shipment of iron ore to the lower lake ports. During this century of ore movement your railroad has played an important role in the economic life and progress of this community. The citizens of Escanaba are most grateful."

Actually, there would probably not have been an Escanaba had it not been for the Chicago & North Western Railway and men like William B. Ogden, the railway's first president.

The North Western in the effort to gain iron ore and steel for the forces of the North in the Civil War subsidized the Peninsula Railroad between Ishpeming and Escanaba. Ogden is remembered here in the name Ogden Ave. and as the man of vision who foresaw the century of advantage in an ore port on Lake Michigan.

Armed Forces Day

Public Invited To Base Saturday

Visitors to K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base for Armed Forces Day next Saturday will find abundant parking space.

Lt. Jeremy Kunz, base officer, said four large parking areas have been designated for visitors. All are near the main display area in the northern section of the base.

All automobile drivers have been asked to enter through the main gate on Marquette County Road 553. The base is located in southern Marquette County, about 20 miles south of Marquette.

Air policemen will be on duty Saturday directing traffic. Special "courtesy patrols" will be available to help any motorists needing assistance.

Aircraft flyovers, aerial demonstrations, static displays of aircraft and ground equipment and exhibits by various sections of the base are all scheduled for this year's event. Maj. James H. Jones, base project officer, said a number of exhibits from civilian organizations and state agencies will be displayed. Among them is a Michigan Week display. The display will be manned by the Ambassadors of the Marquette Chamber of Commerce and will be historic in nature.

A model of Telstar, the communications satellite, will also be shown and the Michigan Conservation Department will have Smokey the Bear here. Three live bear cubs will be exhibited to delight the children.

Refreshments for all visitors will be found at convenient locations and the Sawyer NCO Open Mess will serve. The base cafeteria will also be open.

This is the fifth Armed Forces Day open house at Sawyer AF Base since it opened several years ago. "Power for Peace" is again the theme of the celebration.

Many buildings at the base will be open for inspection, including the operations and industrial buildings and the housing area chapel which has been in use here only a few months.

The base will be open at 10 a. m. to 4 p. m.

SUSAN VIRGO, 20, will compete Saturday as one of the ten finalists in the Miss Delta County contest. She is a 1961 graduate of Escanaba High School and also attended Northern Michigan University in Marquette. She was elected to the Centennial Queen court and placed in a high school oratory contest in Green Bay, Wis. She will present a humorous monologue for the talent portion of the competition. Miss Virgo is five feet, seven inches tall, weighs 124 pounds and has brown hair and blue-gray eyes. (Portrait by Lee's)

Cavalier From Detroit

State Senator Charles S. Blondy, Democrat of Detroit, may not be a statesman but he managed to get elected as constable of Detroit's 10th Ward five times and he has been elected to the Michigan State Senate since 1940. He has now capped his career of public service with a suggestion that three Upper Peninsula counties be renamed to honor three Democratic worthies.

Selected for Blondy's honor, with more Democrats waiting in the wings for similar honor if this virus takes, are former Governors Soapy Williams, John Swainson and Murray D. Van Wagoner.

Blondy would change Gogebic County to Van Wagoner County, Ontonagon to Williams and Keweenaw to Swainson. He introduced his resolution in the Senate, Blondy said, because "many counties in Michigan have difficult names to remember and pronounce."

Blondy likes Democrats much better than Indians and he has much more respect for politics than history so he thinks he's got a good idea by the tail. He cites historical precedent from 1843 when the Michigan Legislature changed the names of many counties from their original Indian names. The changes included Aishcum to Lake County, Nottipetago to Mason County and Tonedagana to Emmet County.

Michigan now has four counties named for governors, two of them in the U.P. Alger was named for Russell A. Alger and Luce for Cyrus G. Luce. Alger was Secretary of War in the Spanish American War and was made the scapegoat of the nation's military folly but his home state continued to respect him. Luce was one of Michigan's best governors and he was serving in 1887 when Luce County (Newberry) was created. The other counties named for governors are Cass for Lewis Cass and Mason for Stevens T. Mason.

Gogebic, which it is hoped will pick up Blondy's visa for travel within its boundaries, is on Michigan's Wisconsin border and was set off from Houghton County in 1887 and named for the Gogebic iron range. The county name, taken from Lake Gogebic, probably means "rock," but translation from the Algonquin is shaky and one translation is "Where trout rising makes rings in the water."

The name Ontonagon, whether or not Blondy can pronounce it, is one of the oldest in the Great Lakes region. It's found on a Jesuit map of Lake Superior published in 1672, where it identifies a river that we still know as the Ontonagon. The county was set up in 1843 with boundaries including Isle Royale and much additional territory. The name means "The Place of the Broken Bowl."

Keweenaw County is Michigan's northernmost and nearer to the North Pole than the city of Quebec. The name, variously spelled and translated (usually as "The Crossing Place") appears on the earliest French maps of the Great Lakes region. Eagle River is the least populous county seat in Michigan.

Blondy may have trouble pronouncing Gogebic, Ontonagon and Keweenaw but this is really not the responsibility of the state and he does not exercise any consistency and propose that it also change Kalamazoo, Kalkaska and Shiawassee so that he can conquer his language difficulties.

Blondy is having his little joke, but in a Legislature which has just voted itself the biggest legislative salaries in the nation and doubled its expense allowances, such doodling creates an itch. Many years ago when the late Michael J. Doyle of Menominee was speaking for the Democrats, Bryan and free silver in the Upper Peninsula, the Legislature named Doyle Township in Schoolcraft County for him.

But to change county names to honor old politicians would soon give Michigan nomenclature the stability of a Tibetan prayer wheel. Blondy may have been encouraged by the practice of the State Highway Department in naming the roadside parks it creates with public funds to honor retiring Democrats of the Highway Department staff. Lo the poor Indian whose tribe once owned the site. He has no chance to have the park named for his tribe and now Senator Blondy wants to add VanWagoner, Williams and Swainson to the Algonquin language.

The Doctor Says:

Hernia Can Come Back

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt.

Q — About three years ago I was operated on for a hernia. About six months ago it came back and I have been wearing a truss ever since. I am 60 and don't want another operation if I can help it.

A — Every surgeon in repairing a rupture tries to insure that it will not recur but this sometimes happens even with the best of surgery. The only danger involved with this type of hernia strangulation — the locking of a segment of intestine in the hernial sac. If your hernia slips back in place easily when you lie on your back and if your truss keeps it from protruding when you are up, there is no harm in treating it in this way.

Q — Is a yeast infection contagious? What would the symptoms be? My doctor says I have a yeast infection. Does this kind of infection come back after it is cured?

A — There are at least 15 kinds of yeast or fungus that may cause disease in man, but none of these diseases primarily attacks the intestines. Some attack the skin; others the lungs or the brain. Darrhea could be a complication of a number of fungus diseases. They vary widely in the degree of contagiousness.

Q — A friend of mine has blood in his urine all the time. Is this because he is an alcoholic?

A — This is always a sign of serious trouble. Alcohol is not a cause but your friend should have a doctor find the true cause without delay.

Q — I read where a woman went nearly blind and she took in an uncharted portion of Hetrazan and was cured. Where could I get this drug?

"--- an' Stop Saying, 'That Ain't Hay!'"

Washington Comment

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Internal Revenue Commissioner Mortimer Caplin's statement that Bobby Baker had signed his accountant's name to his 1961 income tax return raises the question of how the nation's 150 handwriting experts operate.

"The secret," says a Post Office expert, "is to catch a man in those little discrepancies he doesn't know he has. I don't even know my own after 23 years in the business."

It's where you dot your "i," high above or close, to the right or left, whether your dot is like a dot or like a comma, or whether you dot at all. It may be the way you cross your "t" with a long dash or short, straight or curved, up or down, high or low.

It's whether you end a word with a sweep, a downstroke or a neat, clipped-off stroke. Or it may be how your different letters vary in height. How high is the "h" in "have" compared with the "ave"? How high is the "a" compared with the "v" and the "e"?

Does the lower loop of your capital "J" swing into the upper loop or not? Does the bottom circle of your capital "B" meet the vertical line or stop short with a jerk or curl back? How big are the loops in your "t's," "k's," and "b's"?

When you write, are your words spaced far apart or crowded close together? Are your "r's" narrow and pointed, flat-topped or top-heavy?

How do your letters slant? Do your "a's" look like "a's" or "o's"? Are they open or closed, fat at the bottom or narrow, straight up and down or slanted right or left, looped at the top or precisely drawn? Do your "v's" look like "u's"?

Most of these characteristics stay with a man until he dies. His writing will change temporarily when he's ill. It will change more if he shifts from right-handed writing to left. It will change some with natural aging. But many of his writing quirks will remain.

Experts have successfully checked out right-handed men who tried to disguise their writing by using crude left-handed scrawls. They have identified men from handwriting samples taken 20 years apart.

Post Office analysts say they know no way to tell a man's character from his writing. But they feel pretty confident that given a reasonable amount of a man's handwriting they can tell whether he wrote another man's name on a series of checks.

In actual practice, the Post Office men find they're stumped about 20 per cent of the time. Usually, it's because a clever writer is able to disguise his writing.

So far, the government men have been unable to find two people who write precisely alike. The Post Office Department has been making a study of the writing of 600 twins on the theory that twins are more likely to write alike than other people. In every case, the experts have been able to tell the writing of one twin from the other.

I was shown photographs of the teen-age writing of each of the Dionne quintuplets. There was no problem in distinguishing between them.

In one famous New York kidnapping case, Federal Bureau of Investigation agents went through approximately 2 million handwriting samples from the New York State Motor Vehicle Bureau, federal and state probation offices, schools, aircraft plants and municipal records for writing similar to that in the ransom notes. They found the right man.

A major problem for the experts: juries are sometimes quite suspicious of handwriting testimony.

School Housing Granted For New Library

RAPID RIVER — At the Rapid River School Board meeting at Bay De Noc Elementary School Monday evening, Mrs. George S. Anderson and Mrs. Thomas Safford, representing the Rapid River library committee, asked the board for permission to house the community library in the school and permission for library housing was granted by the board. Walter Peters, superintendent of Rapid River Schools, offered to meet with the library committee to find a suitable location within the school buildings.

A final decision on the site of the library will be made by Friends of Rapid River's Community Library.

Legislators To Be Best Paid

Michigan's legislators will become the best paid in the nation with the signature by Gov. Romney of a bill which they passed raising their pay effective Jan. 1, 1965.

At present legislators get $7,000 a year and expenses of $1,250 a year plus two round trips from their home to Lansing a month when the Legislature is in session.

After Jan. 1, their pay will be $10,000 a year and they will receive expenses of $2,500 a year and mileage allowance for two round trips a month to legislative sessions.

In the case of the Delta County representative in the Legislature the travel allowance is 542 miles, figured on the rail route via Chicago, or $108.40 twice a month.

Chips And Splinters

Contributions To Chips Welcomed

Charles Burton, Gladstone realtor, says it appears to him that there's bright young executive in charge of the Conservation Department's Fife Lake State Forest downstate. The state forester is Fred H. Haskin of Traverse City, who wrote a piece for the North Woods Call on the twin giants of the Northern Michigan economy: Timber and Recreation.

"There are tremendous opportunities to increase timber to an enterprise that will dwarf the old time timber business," wrote Haskin "and at the same time provide the esthetic surroundings for a much enlarged recreation business with more wildlife, more wild flowers, more camping areas, more riding trails, more hiking trails."

To do this, Michigan, suggests Haskin, must know its forest resource "and what we can do with it and what our needs are going to be 10-30-40 and even 100 years from now. The proposed forest inventory of all forest lands will give us detailed information about each county and enable us to make plans for reasonable development of our forest resources."

Michigan's Legislature hasn't appropriated funds to provide the county data that can be made a part of the coming federal forest inventory in the state. It is the kind of spending that makes industry and jobs more assured than promotional type hoopla for economic development.

Ann Landers

Bossy Mother Found Guilty

Dear Ann Landers: I am a 12-year-old girl who just has found out why kids are so sassy to their mothers. The reason is because mothers are too bossy.

Why do mothers think they have to be in on every little thing that happens? If mothers would leave their kids alone more it would be much better for their kids and much better for the mothers, too.

Dear Ann Landers: I found this unfinished letter to you on my daughter's dresser this morning. I would like to tell you my side of the story.

If I had more co-operation from this 12-year-old Know-It-All I would not be so irritable. My life is an endless round of picking up books, hats, coats, underwear, damp towels and whatever she decides to drop.

Children today treat their mothers as if they were hired help and then expect them to be cheerful and uncomplaining. Perhaps if my daughter were more considerate her mother then would not be so "bossy." What is your verdict?

—MY SIDE

Dear Your Side: Sorry, Mother, you are guilty as charged. The very act of taking over your daughter's letter as you did is evidence that you are indeed too bossy. (I'll bet you finish your husband's sentences, too.)

Children who are taught early to pick up after themselves will not be slobbs at age 12. But that's another column. Try taking the whip off this girl's back. Allow her more independence of thought and action and I promise you she will be more co-operative.

Dear Ann Landers: Several days ago I read the letter in your column from the young man who was undecided about marrying his fiancée. It seems she had a bad habit of throwing her engagement ring in his face every time they had an argument. My fiancée was the same type but I married her thinking she would outgrow those childish temper tantrums. I kept telling myself she'd settle down once she had the "Mrs." in front of her name.

Well, Ann, we've been married 15 years and she's still throwing things—bottles, dishes, knives, lamps, any object that happens to be in her hands when she flies off the handle. Leaving her is out of the question. We have a large family and I'd hate to think of what would become of the kids if I walked out and left her in charge.

It's too late for me, but I hope the guy who wrote you will take your advice and get out while the getting is good.

—BATTLE-SCARRED

Dear Scarred: Yours was not the only letter which expressed such sentiments. For those of you who may have walked in late, I repeat: Take a good, clear-eyed look at your beloved during courtship—and remove those rose-colored glasses, kids. A fiery uncontrolled temper will not vanish after marriage. It will probably get worse.

Dear Ann Landers: My brother's wife was expecting her first baby any day. The family got together and gave her a shower. Several relatives decided to pool their money and buy substantial gifts—such as a crib, a high chair, and other pieces of furniture. The baby was born last week, but died after a few hours.

My mother thinks she should return the gifts. The heart-broken girl wants to give these gifts to her own sister who is expecting a baby. The relatives are mad because they say they did not buy the gifts for her sister but for HER.

Please, Ann, what is the right thing to do? — MIDDLE MAID

Dear Maid: I assume the girl is young and that she will one day have a family. She should store the gifts in the hope that she will be able to use them herself.

Senior Citizens Well Served By Public Library

By HARRY COURTRIGHT
Escanaba Public Library

Senior Citizen's Month is indeed an opportune time for librarians to look at library service in relation to this group of possible patrons.

Librarians are used to serving individuals with different interests and abilities. But for the most part, libraries serve the people who come to the library.

The question would seem to be: Shall it be assumed that senior citizens will not come to the library to use its collection and participate in its programs? And, if they do not, what can be done to attract their interest?

We look at the Escanaba Carnegie Public Library and examine its usage and programs for senior citizens we can be justly proud. During one week in late February of this year almost 60 retirees visited the library and almost 80 persons over 61 years of age had the interest and desire to visit the library.

The library has always tried to provide materials for each part of the population of Escanaba. Our senior citizens find special liking for newspapers, magazines, and fiction. Not to mention materials on current events and history. The Escanaba Public Library has filled this need by subscribing to over 15 newspapers including The Escanaba Daily Press, The State Journal, Chicago Tribune, Green Bay Press-Gazette, The Detroit News, Minneapolis Star and the Milwaukee Journal.

We now have subscriptions to over 250 periodicals and are continually adding new book titles which will be of interest to our older patrons.

With the opening of the Drop-In Center the library undertook to provide a small collection of books in the center to provide limited service for center users.

'Over-60' Club Ends Loneliness

It must be made clear that providing such a collection does not comprise library service. Rather, this small rotating collection of specially selected books is a method by which the library is attempting to achieve the goal of gaining the older citizens interest in the library and of using its many resources.

Special displays of books and pamphlets of interest to the senior citizen have been used in the past. Currently, a display of materials entitled "Books about creative and successful Senior Citizens" is set up in the north reading room. The library maintains a permanent display unit of free materials on Social Security and other pamphlets to help the retiree.

Our activities will grow as the needs are discovered and our service for the senior citizen will grow to meet their needs. The possibilities for filling the more mature years with meaningful activity are infinite. One needs only the clear vision which will allow him to face his retirement realistically and then he needs both the wish and the will to start a program of preparation for it.

The library is the ideal place in which to center one's planning for retirement. Information on every facet of the subject is available in books, pamphlets

W. F. Shinner Of Iron River Dies In Arizona

IRON RIVER — Wilnot F. Shinner, retired manager of the Michigan District of the Hanna Mining Co., died Monday at Tucson General Hospital, Tucson, Ariz., after a long illness.

Mr. Shinner, 60, had retired as manager of the Michigan District last Sept. 4, because of ill health. The district includes all mines in Michigan and Ontario. He and his wife Esther, and their daughter, Carla, had spent the winter in Arizona. They were returning to their home on Seldon Road when his health worsened and he entered the hospital at Tucson. His son, Rodney, is serving with the Merchant Marine.

Mr. Shinner was a prominent figure in civic affairs as well as a leader in mineral industry in the Upper Peninsula. He was a native of Woodstock, Ontario.

Cody's Sponsor
Ned Buntline, news novel writer, met Buffalo Bill Cody at Fort McPherson, in Nebraska. Buntline is credited with making Cody's name a household word the world over with his writings.

Mrs. Logan emphasized that any senior citizen, age 60 or over, is welcome to join the group. Her phone number is ST6-7484.

Rail Service Hearing July 8

WASHINGTON (AP) — The first crucial round in the battle over the future of railroad freight service in northern Michigan will be July 8.

The Interstate Commerce Commission Thursday set a hearing for that date at Cheboygan, Mich. It will consider petitions for discontinuing rail ferry service across the Straits of Mackinac and rail service along 343 miles of track in northern Michigan.

Two of three owners of the ferry are railroads seeking to abandon northern Michigan track. They are the New York Central and Pennsylvania railroads. The third owner is the Soo Line. The other railroad seeking to end freight service in the Detroit & Mackinac Railroad Co.

The ferry, Chief Wawatam, "is the key" in the fight to retain rail service, said Michigan Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley. Kelly has joined a number of northern Michigan communities in fighting the petitions.

Postal Service Changes Listed

Limited adjustments in some postal services, ordered March 10 in Washington by Postmaster General John A. Gronouske took effect in Gladstone and other cities May 4, according to Maurice Anderson, postmaster.

Service changes planned locally include the following:

1 - Parcel Post Deliveries: Parcel Post will be delivered five days a week, Monday through Friday on city routes. There will be no delivery on Saturday, Sunday and Holidays on these routes. There will be no curtailment of deliveries on the rural routes, mounted route or box deliveries.

2 - Window Service: There will be no change in window service, which will be open from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily except Saturday, Sunday and Holidays. Window service will be provided on Saturday from 8:30 a.m. until 12 noon. No service will be given except during these hours.

Anderson emphasized that no essential major services are affected under this order. There will be no change in home deliveries or special delivery. Regular business mail delivery will continue as usual and letters and other first-class mail will be handled with the same priority as ever.

The economy step, Anderson explained, is in line with President Johnson's Federal income tax cut.

Artist To Speak At Welfare Club

John Gustafson, local artist, will be the guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Child's Welfare Club to be held Monday at 8 p.m. at the James T. Jones School. The speaker will also have on display several articles of work.

Feast Painting Brings $476,000

LONDON (AP)—Britain's National Gallery has bought Lord Derby's celebrated Rembrandt "Belshazzar's Feast," for 170,000 pounds ($476,000).

Experts value the painting at more than a million dollars, but if Lord Derby sold at that price to a private buyer he would have to pay half in taxes.

The painting has been at the Derby family's 700-year-old mansion, since the early 18th century at least.

Experts say the picture dates from 1634 or 1635.

Rock Seniors Return From Tour Of U.P.

ROCK—The Rock seniors returned Sunday night from their class trip to the eastern part of the Peninsula. They followed a tight schedule, which started early Friday morning, May 1. They saw the Pictured Rocks and had breakfast in Munising. A tour of Newberry State Hospital was followed by a picnic lunch at Tahquamenon Falls. After checking in at the Ojibway Hotel at the Soo, they crossed over to the Canadian side to tour the Algoma Steel Mills. They also watched the boats go through the locks and rounded out the evening with a movie on the American side.

Saturday morning they watched the complete lowering and raising of the locks and toured the Kincheloe Missile Base. An interesting sight was the exhibit the dog sentries put on to show what their duties are. Later the class crossed the Mackinac Bridge and had lunch in Mackinac City.

The trip on the ferry to Mackinac Island was quite different, as was the bicycle tour that afternoon and the hay ride with horses Saturday night. After a night on Mackinac Island, they attended church Sunday morning, went for a carriage ride around the island and came back to St. Ignace on the ferry. On the way home they stopped at the Cut River Bridge, the Big Springs, ate at Rapid River and finished off the trip with a movie in Gladstone.

There were 16 girls and 9 boys on the trip. Others did not go because of illness or other commitments. Elmer Lepisto drove the bus. Chaperones were Mr. and Mrs. Roman Gill.

Class Program
The Rock High School Economics class received first hand information on banking and insurance from actual resource people recently. Walter Olson, president of the Gladstone State Savings Bank, presented a film on Federal Reserve system, and he also gave a talk on banking in general. Leo Kulick, secretary of the Upper Peninsula Mutual Insurance Co. spoke on various aspects of insurance.

Mrs. Florence Sayen will attend the Social Studies Conference at Northern Michigan University in Marquette Friday.

Graduates' Banquet

The Marquette Redmen tuned up for the Great Lakes Conference meet this weekend with an impressive 81-28 dual victory over Negaunee. Hurdler Bob Pearson skinned the lows in 21.9 and the highs in 16.5. The top individual effort in the meet was a vault of 11 feet 10 inches by Bill Millman of Marquette. That's the best in the Peninsula to date.

A couple of defending Upper Peninsula track champs put on an exhibition of their ability in a dual meet at Ishpeming this week. Miller Bruce Swanson of Ishpeming ripped off a 4:45 clocking. Dan Purple of Gwinn soared 6 feet 1 inch in the high jump, tops in the Upper Peninsula this spring.

The Kingsford Flivvers, who will meet Escanaba twice this spring, have eight baseball lettermen back in action. The veterans include Dick Berlinski, the outstanding Flivver athlete who stars in football, basketball and track in addition to baseball, in which he plays shortstop.

Stambaugh's tennis team made it three straight victories this spring by whipping Kingsford 6-1. Coach Don Elliot's Hilltoppers are defending Menominee Range Conference and Upper Peninsula Class A-B champs.

Steve Clement, former Iron Mountain high school athlete, won the half mile for Army in a dual meet against Notre Dame last weekend. Clement, a junior, stepped the 880 in 1:55.5.

Doug Kiern rapped a two-out single in the last of the ninth inning to give Stephenson a 4-3 baseball victory over Menominee. Fran Lesperance tossed a four-hitter for Coach Bill Johnson's Eagles in their first start of the season.

Dennis McClure and Harry Gordon of Hermansville combined to pitch a no-hitter against Carney in a Big Eight Conference game this week. The Redskins won 12-1 with Dick Gordon swatting a bases loaded double in the fourth inning.

Art Marcell, former outstanding Norway athlete, is battling .235 and playing shortstop for the Western Michigan University baseball team. The Broncos have a record of 11 victories in 14 starts.

Softball Season To Open May 17

The opening date for the 1964 Escanaba softball season will be Sunday night, May 17.

Final plans for the season were outlined at a general meeting of the Escanaba Softball Association Thursday night.

Eight teams were represented at the meeting: Mead No. 1, Merchants, Skinny's, Mead No. 3, Teamsters, Hall Insurance and Bero Motors.

A season ticket sale will be conducted by players and plans were made for a benefit dance to be held Friday, May 29, at Teamsters Hall.

Bill Lancour, association president, announced a work bee at Memorial Field Saturday starting at 9 a.m.

"We will open the season May 17 only if the field is ready by then," Lancour stated. "We have a lot of work to do and all the players will have to chip in and help or the season will be delayed."

Roster deadline for league play will be June 15. Deadline for U.P. rosters is July 15.

Compare Tony With Aaron

ST. PAUL—MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Baseball men are starting to call Tony Oliva a left-handed hitting Henry Aaron, and based on the Cuban rookie's auspicious debut in the American League the assessment may be accurate.

Oliva made a believer out of Los Angeles Manager Bill Rigney by flailing Angel pitching for six hits in nine times at bat in a two-game series.

"He's a heckuva hitter, isn't he," Rigney said after Oliva collected four hits, including a grand-slam home run and a solo homer and drove in six runs in Minnesota 9-1 victory over the Angels Thursday.

"I never knew anybody that hit .500," Rigney added when asked if he ever saw a rookie slap a baseball like Oliva. "I haven't noticed too much he can't hit. It looks like we'll have to throw him spitters and hope we drown him."

Oliva is a gangling kid, 6-foot-1 and 175 pounds. Yet he hits with remarkable power, like Aaron, Milwaukee's great hitter. He's a spray hitter who hits the ball where it's pitched. His grand slam off left-hander Jack Spring—his first major league slam—was pulled to right field. His solo clout, off right-hander Paul Foytack, was poked over the left field fence.

He also notched two singles to raise his average to .427. In his last seven games, Oliva has collected 18 hits in 31 times at bat for a .581 clip. Over-all he has seven homers and 18 RBI.

Bill's Bar will practice Sunday at 2 at the Rapid River diamond.

"Down Their Alley"

Regan Mound Fizzle

DETROIT (AP)—The once almost unbeatable Detroit Tigers duo of manager Charlie Dressen and pitcher Phil Regan has fizzled.

Regan, the Tigers' biggest winner last year when he recorded 15 victories, was 13-3 after Dressen took over in June.

After pitching a nifty five-hitter in this year's opener, Regan has had four chances at a second victory. But he's failed each time, despite a creditable performance against Minnesota a couple of weeks back.

His latest failure came Thursday as Boston rookies Dalton Jones and Tony Conigliaro connected for two-run homers to power the Red Sox to a 7-3 triumph.

Dressen cannot explain what Regan may be doing wrong. His only comment was "he's pitching in their alley," meaning he's letting some of the pitches slip into an area where the batters can get a good crack at the ball.

"We talked over the various Boston batters before the game," Dressen explained. "And we thought we had Jones pretty well pegged. But Regan let one get away from him, and away it went."

Conigliaro's ninth-inning clout was hit off Julia Navarro. Jones' homer, his fifth hit in the two-game set, gave the Red Sox a brief 2-0 lead.

But the Tigers scored their three runs in the bottom of the inning on four singles. Billy Bruton batted in the first run, while Don Demeter chased home the other two. Both hit singles.

After the third-inning, Boston pitcher Jack Lamabe was almost invincible as he surrendered a sixth-inning single to Bill Freehan and set down the remaining 18 batters without any difficulty.

The victory was Lamabe's third without a setback.

Dressen indicated that he may make a few lineup changes

Player Pacing Golf Tourney; Weather Wet

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Gary Player, first-round leader of the $75,000 Colonial National Invitational Golf Tournament with a crisp two-under-par 68, says he will be happy with straight par from here on out.

"I'm not greedy," the slim little South African said with a grin. "I'll take three 70s."

The heavy wet weather which hampered many of the big names in Thursday's opening round was predicted again for today. Accurate driving, always important on the 7,122-yard Colonial, was especially vital because of the weather.

One stroke behind was scrappy Tommy Jacobs of Bermuda Dunes, Calif., who also played a near-perfect round off the tee.

Both Jacobs and Player were in the rough on only one drive, and they each took par on those holes.

They were the only two play-also whiffed 10 enemy batters.

The Maroons went ahead 2-0 in the second on a single, triple and double. Escanaba tallied once in the third, Gafner scoring on a single by Butryn.

In the sixth, Dave Kositzky led off with a double. With two out, Jim Johnson dribbled a slow roller that got through third base and Kositzky came home to tie the count at 2-2 and set the stage for Butryn's winning blast.

The Eskymos will return to action Monday, May 11, in a home stand against the Stephenson Eagles.

Is Dodger Brass Getting Worried At Slow Start?

By The Associated Press

Are officials of the Los Angeles Dodgers beginning to get worried with the sputtering start made by the defending world champions?

That seemed to be the big question today following two developments—still a nother loss by the weak-hitting Dodgers, 2-1 to the Houston Colts Thursday night, and a trade report involving pitcher Johnny Podres.

Denied by the Dodgers, the report stated that Podres, who in his only appearance on April 25 was struck in the elbow by a Warren Spahn pitch and has been on the mound for only two innings this season.

"I know nothing whatsoever about it," said Dodger General Manager Buzzie Bavasi. "I haven't talked to anyone on the Houston club. There's absolutely nothing to it."

The loss to the Colts was the 13th in 22 games for the Dodgers and left them six games behind the National League leading San Francisco Giants. The Dodgers are in front of the Colts and New York Mets.

In all, the Dodgers have scored only 73 runs and hit only 14 homers—eight by Frank Howard. Maury Wills, who collected four hits against the Colts for a .309 batting average, is the only regular hitting over .300. The team is batting .235, eighth in the league.

While the Dodgers were battling their problems, Tom Haller's two-run single in the eighth gave San Francisco a 7-6 edge over the Chicago Cubs, Clay Dalrymple's two-run homer started Philadelphia on the way to a 9-6 victory over Milwaukee. St. Louis defeated Pittsburgh 4-2 and the New York Mets nipped Cincinnati 3-2.

The Colts scored in the fifth on a single by Walt Bond, a double by Jim Wynn and Bob Aspromonte's sacrifice fly. Winning pitcher Bob Bruce led off the sixth with a single and came around with the clincher on a sacrifice and Al Spangler's single.

Dalrymple, hitless in 22 previous trips to the plate, hammered his homer off Hank Fischer following a single by John Herrnstein, snapping a 2-2 tie. The Phillies took it from there. Herrnstein had a double and two singles for the night. Art Mahaffey, tagged for homers by Joe Torre and Eddie Mathews, needed Jack Baldschun's relief help before getting the victory.

The Giants went into the eighth trailing the Cubs 6-5, but singles by Jesus Alou and Willie Mays—the third hit for each—set up Haller's game-winning single off Lindy McDaniel. Mays' three hits lifted his average to .479. Billy Williams went 4-for-5 for the Cubs, who pulled out to a 4-0 first inning lead, but couldn't hold it.

Roberto Clemente hit a two-run homer in the first inning, but Curt Simmons, now 3-2, and Roger Craig stopped the Pirates the rest of the way. The Cardinals scored all their runs in the fourth against Bob Veale. Al Jackson evened his record at 3-3 by scattering nine Reds' hits. Tim Lincecum's two-run first-inning homer off Jim Maloney, gave the Mets a lead they never lost. Charlie Smith scored for New York in the second when he singled, stole second and came across on a single by Al Moran. Johnny Edwards homered for the Reds.

Two Crusaders Break Records In Track Meet

MARINETTE—Two Holy Name athletes erased their own school records in a triangular track and field meet here Thursday.

Appleton Xavier took team honors with 72 points while Holy Name scored 45 and Marinette Central 21.

Eugene Rissanen skimmed the 120 high hurdles in 15.75 seconds. He had set the school record of 16.2 in a triangular meet earlier in the week. Rissanen's time is the best by any Upper Peninsula athlete this spring. The Upper Peninsula Class A-B record for the event is 15.4. Rissanen also won the 180 lows in 21.9.

Ben Yagodzinski made his final effort in the broad jump pay off when he sailed 20 feet 7½ inches to better his own Holy Name record in the event. Yago also was a double winner, copping the 440 yard dash in 54.85 seconds.

Bill Curtis gave the Crusaders a first in the 100 yard dash in 10.6 seconds. He was third in the 220.

Dinosaur Not Yet Extinct
INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—The dinosaur is not extinct—not so long as it has a jockey like Parnelli Jones.
He booted it to 156 miles an hour Thursday at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, where 150 was considered all but impossible until Jones did it two years ago.
The old front-engine Offenhauser race car, the Indianapolis roadster, was called obsolete—a dinosaur—by a lot of automotive engineers last year after spectacular invasions by European road racers Jimmy Scott and Dan Gurney in new rear-engine Lotus-Fords.
Jones did win the $500,000 Indianapolis 500, however, in the Agajanian roadster, and would have won it the previous year if a hydraulic brake line hadn't worn through.
The Torrance, Calif., veteran turned four laps Thursday, all clocked by electric timer, at 155.871, 156.002, 155.333 and 156.233. The official one-lap record around the 2½-mile track is 151.847 miles an hour, set by Jones last year in substantially the same car.

Trust Forum Hears

Estate Planning Urged To Curb Levy For Taxes

Adult education got in an inning Thursday night with 215 men attending a trust forum sponsored by the 1st National Bank of Escanaba Trust Department at Marco's to explain wills and estate planning to minimize taxes and distribute estates in the way their owners desire.

Arne J. Maki, trust officer of the bank, introduced Frederick Strong, assistant trust officer of the National Bank of Detroit, who made the presentation. John L. Greene, executive vice president of the bank, introduced its officers.

What the estate planners learned from Strong was that Uncle Sam is apt to take a big bite of an estate that isn't planned to contend with the tax code. Bank trust departments, he said, are part of a three-cornered arrangement including personal attorney and insurance counselor which serve family heads today in estate planning.

When this century was young, estates were regarded as something which only the rich had, but today workmen have estates, too, and their maintenance and distribution call for planning if they are to clear the tax hurdle in best condition for survival as bequests.

Strong said that beyond any planning is a condition strongly affecting estates. It's much better, taxwise, to have the wife survive the husband. If he survives her and gets her share of the joint estate, the tax is considerably higher.

Strong cited hypothetical cases of family estates to explain the desirability of planning and having the estate distributed by will, with use of an insurance trust as an instrument of distribution. To be avoided is the leaving of an estate with no will. Such (intestate) estates are distributed under formula set up by state law and when they exceed the $60,000 exemption can be subject to heavier taxation than a planned estate and to distribution which violates the desires of the late owners.

Strong cites a family estate of $165,000 subject to total taxes and expenses of $13,300 under planning and subject to $38,300 without planning.

The husband was urged to make his insurance payable to an insurance trust for the benefit of his family. He made a will and his wife made a will providing for disposal of her estate in event she died before her husband leaving the assets to their children so his estate and taxes wouldn't be increased and providing for her estate to go to the trust for the children if she survived her husband.

Bank trust departments have found some wives leary of this arrangement for fear trust income would be insufficient to maintain them, but this can be cared for in the trust provisions and the widow can be a trustee, but there must also be an independent trustee in such a case to assure the tax advantage.

Strong was asked about trust charges. He said as executor or co-executor under a will the bank's fee is established by statute, 2 per cent of the probated portion of the estate plus $50; and for trust management in Michigan the fee is set by competition.

For estate management the charge, said Strong, is two-tenths of one per cent of the principal annually and 5 per cent of the income generated. On a $100,000 estate with 4 per cent income, this would be a cost of $400 a year for management.

A trust designed to care for the income of beneficiaries and made by others than the income beneficiaries is not subject to tax on the death of the income beneficiary, he said, "but you can't set up a trust for yourself and have it go tax-free at the time of your death. You can set up a trust for others and have it go tax free at death."

Designate May Fix-Up Month

This is Clean-up, Paint-up, Fix-up Month in Escanaba by proclamation of Mayor George W. Rusch, who is calling upon the citizens of the community to:

Display our pride by making a special effort to improve the appearance of our property, to protect against fire hazards, and remedy the unsightly.

"I call upon all departments and agencies of the city government to participate actively in this campaign and urge effective cooperation with the Chamber of Commerce and its committees for a successful program."

By proclamation of the mayor the community was also called upon to join in recognition of the founding of the Escanaba Women's Club on May 20, and salute the Women's Club for its achievements for retarded children, Project Pride meeting room, T. B. Christmas Seals, and philanthropic and other worthwhile projects.

The week of May 10-16 was designated by proclamation as Life Insurance Education Week in Escanaba in cooperation with the Central U. P. Life Underwriters.

In Service

Army Pvt. William J. Whitehead, son of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Whitehead, Escanaba, participated as a member of the assault forces in Exercise WEST WIND, a joint Army-Navy-Marine Corps amphibious operation, on the Hawaiian Island of Molokai April 15-24.

Whitehead is a rifleman in Company B, 2nd Battalion of the division's 14th Infantry, regularly stationed at Schofield Barracks, Hawaii. He entered the Army in March 1963 and completed basic combat training at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.

Skeet Tourney Dates Are Set

Delta County Sportsmen's Club, meeting Thursday at the clubhouse, chose as delegates to the Michigan United Conservation Clubs convention in Kalamazoo June 17-20 Roy Jensen and Jack Sisson. Alternates chosen are Ray Shaw and Richard Seibert. The club is an affiliate of MUCC.

The club will sponsor a skeet and trap shoot June 7 and Aug. 9 as part of the Upper Peninsula Shooting Association schedule at the club range. The Association has representation in Marquette, Negaunee, Ishpeming, Sault Ste. Marie, Munising and K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base. The club has bid for the 1965 championship tournament of the Association.

The club is developing a new skeet range at its clubhouse site for use June 7.

Street Paving Jobs Planned

Street improvements, sewer extensions and construction of a water main were given hearing by the City Council last night and were scheduled for a hearing on assessments to be held by the Council May 21.

No objections were received last night, indicating acceptance of the projects that include:

Street paving — Curbing, drainage and blacktop, 14th St. S. from 11th to 16th Ave. S.; 15 St. S. from 12th to 16th Ave. S.; 12th Ave. S. from 14th to 15th St. S.; 13th Ave. N., Washington Ave. to 23rd St. N.; and grading and graveling 22nd Ave. S. from Lake Shore Drive to west line of Kurz Brothers Addition.

Sanitary sewers — East of Willow Creek Road from 8th Ave. S. to 700 feet south of 14th Ave. S.; and between 23rd and 24th Ave. S. from existing sewer to west line of Lot 25, Pascoe Addition.

Water main — Twelve inch water main on S. 23rd St., from 5th to 8th Ave. S.

In other business the Council accepted low bids, subject to the approval of the department heads, on 5,000 cubic feet of gravel and 60 pine poles. Steve Marvic's bid of $1.33 per cubic yard was the apparent low bid for gravel; and the Mississippi Wood preserving Co. bid of $2.533 was low for the poles.

The Council adopted a recommendation of the Civil Service Commission providing for consideration of a holiday rule for employees when holidays fall on Saturday.

Chamber Urges Fair Farm Day

An all-farm day at the U.P. State Fair (Aug. 18-23) was planned by members of the Agriculture Committee of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce with Ray LePorte, U.P. State Fair manager, and Upper Peninsula 4-H agents at the Chamber building. Presiding were Co-chairmen George Bathke and Richard Marenger.

Thursday afternoon, Aug. 20, which is also Governor's Day and 4-H Day, was considered for various youth contests. Calf and pig scrambles were discussed and LaPorte agreed to investigate this project.

The committee discussed with LaPorte the possibility of a building for special agricultural displays, which would show the various products of the area, forest products, including Christmas trees, a milk display, etc. The Fair is handicapped to some extent by the lack of display building facilities, LaPorte said.

The committee urged Gov. George Romney to affiliate the Upper Peninsula State Fair with the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

The possibility of a businessmen's tour of farms in the area this summer was considered and MSU Extension Director Joseph Heirman said he would be glad to cooperate in planning the tour.

Attending the meeting were Bathke and Marenger, Heirman, A. J. Geartts, John L. Greene, Grant L. Hess, Clayton Ford, Emil Christensen, Gust Aps, and County Extension Agents Arvid Norlin, Chipewa County; Augie Blome, Iron; Lester Walcutt, Menominee; Larry Bradford, Delta, and MSU 4-H Extension Director Emil Fimbinger, Marquette.
